

5. Plans for dissemination of project outcomes including publication, professional presentation, media, work with client groups, or other means. In addition, the awardee's travel will be supported to make a presentation of project outcomes at a Fielding national workshop session.

6. List of budgeted expenses

7. Sources of potential external support (e.g., foundations, corporations, donors, community groups, government agencies) to continue the work beyond the award period.

Proposals should be submitted by April 15, 2018 to Charles McClintock, Director, Institute for Social Innovation (cmclintock@fielding.edu). A review committee will make a final selection by May 15, 2018.